

Hello, my name is Rida Siddiqui

I'm a versatile designer and web developer with a focus on crafting cohesive brand identities and engaging digital experiences.

Alongside a background in software engineering and web development, I specialise in brand design for modern, product-led businesses.

Proficient in: Brand Strategy, Web Design and Development, Brand Design, Graphic Design

ridasiddiquicpp@gmail.com

Fizzy Pop
Beverage.

Fizzy Pop

Project Goal

To create a bold and energetic soda brand that stands out in a saturated beverage market through vibrant visuals and playful branding inspired by its fizzy, punchy flavors.

Brand Identity • Packaging • Web Design

Design Decisions

The “i” in Fizzy Pop was redesigned as a soda can with fizzy bubbles, creating a strong visual link to the product. A fun, expressive typography was used to reinforce the playful and energetic tone of the brand. Bold and vibrant colors were used across the logo and packaging to reflect the brand’s fruity flavour profiles.

Barsa
Skincare.

BARSA
REVEAL YOUR SKIN'S PUREST SELF

Project Goal
A minimalist and natural skincare brand that embodies the philosophy of purity and natural beauty through clean, refined branding and a luxury feel.

Brand Strategy • Brand Identity • Packaging

Design Decisions
Barsa, means “rain”. A water droplet motif was used to represent this and reinforce the concept of purity. Muted blues and whites creates a minimal color palette inspired by natural water tones. Elegant typeface was chosen to balance the minimal visuals, supporting the brand’s elevated skincare identity.

Banned Brownies

Baked Goods.

BANNED
BROWNIES
WORTH BREAKING RULES

Project Goal

An irresistible baked goods brand that stands out through bold, playful, eye-catching branding and a memorable identity built around the name Banned Brownies.

Brand Strategy • Brand Identity • Social Graphics • Packaging

Design Decisions

A stylized "banned" stamp was used for the logo to give the feel of something officially prohibited, reinforcing the brand's playful "forbidden treat" concept.

A palette of pink and brown evokes the warmth of baked goods, while red adds a bold pop, emphasizing the fun, rebellious personality.

